World Traveler Debbie Pappyn exclusive DeMorgen.be makes every day a blog piece about how the World Cup the world in his power. She brings tips and tricks for traveling in South Africa but also for travel in the participating countries, to North Korea.

Exchange in Lisbon soccer power briefly in the bike and pull on discoveries iberia bike , a nice bike organization that Portugal and its capital in a different way to the sports shows traveler.

Owner and avid bike lover's Didier Mimoso years ago who first dared to cycling in the city of introducing countless hills. We tried five years ago: first gently, flat along the waterfront, along the Tagus and then little by little the city. Hill (waiving and sweating) and hill (hair in the wind and Lisbon at your feet). Even better: on the ferry, the Tagus and on the other side of the river to take a light lunch overlooking the city.

Iberia is now the bike with the wind. Lisbon recently submitted a new cycle path along the Tagus, especially for his cycling visitors and residents. Even better, it was not only a poetic gewoon cycle route through the Guardador the Rebanhos, a poem by the famous Portuguese writer Fernando Pessoa, who are on the path can read while you're biking. Trip Advisor recently said it while cycling exploring Lisbon as one of the 30 must-do activities of the town.

Not bad if you know there is a selection of nearly 300 tourist attractions and activities including the big block busters such as Belém tarts eat or take a train elevator. Apparently, the hills of Lisbon no obstacle for the sporty city tripper. (Debbie Pappyn)
